Learn to play the piano or keyboard from scratch

Below, you find an overview of all the lectures in this course. First, an explanation of what the color codes mean:

The lecture titles in light green mean that you should follow at least these lectures. These lectures are the base of the music theory that you will need to go on with the 'Reading music' and 'Improvisation' sections.

The lecture titles in light orange mean that it would be good to do those lectures before going on with the sections 'Reading music' and 'Improvisation'. If however you cannot play exactly the song, or the theory is difficult, you can simply go on to the next part/lecture and come back (much) later when you feel that you master the piano and or the theory better. It is also possible that the lecture speaks of scales that you skipped because they are in the red colored lectures. In that case, do only the scales in that lecture that you're familiar with.

You can skip the lectures with a red color. In these lectures, the scales are often with a lot of sharps or flats, and are not necessary to understand if you want to move on to the 'Reading music' and 'Improvisation' sections. If you want, you can come back later to these lectures in order to understand the 'whole picture', so all the major and minor scales in all the 12 keys.
